

$16.3 million raised on ICAP's 16th annual Charity Day

New York, 11 December 2008 – ICAP (IAP.L), the world's premier interdealer broker, raised $16.3 million (£11 million) worldwide on its 16th annual Charity Day, beating the $13.7 million (£9.2 million) raised in 2007 and bringing the total raised to $79.2 million (£53 million) since 1993. The money raised will be donated to over 100 charities worldwide.

Michael Spencer, Chief Executive Officer of ICAP said, "To raise over $16 million in one day is an incredible achievement, particularly in the current environment. It is the efforts of our customers, staff and supporters that made Charity Day 2008 such a fantastic success. Many needy people around the world will benefit from their efforts."

In New York, ICAP hosted many celebrity spokespeople from the various charities it gave to this year, including:

Boomer Esiason Foundation	Boomer Esiason
Boys & Girls Clubs of America	Gary Carter/Anna Kournikova/ Don Zimmer
Communities in Schools	Amy Adams
Four Rings Family Foundation	Joe Montana
Goal USA & Refugees Int'l (2 charities)	Matt Dillon
The Jeff Gordon Foundation	Jeff Gordon
Partners in Health & Equality Now (2 charities)	Meryl Streep
Robin Hood Foundation	Stanley Tucci
Tuberous Sclerosis Alliance	Julianne Moore

Julianne Moore said, "I was thrilled to be involved in ICAP's charity day. They were so generous and so excited to be helping so many. It was really wonderful, in a year where there has been so much economic distress, to be with a group that focused on giving so whole heartedly. Every one of us at the Tuberous Sclerosis Alliance was so thankful to be included in their tremendous generosity. Thank you, thank you ICAP!!"

Boomer Esiason, veteran NFL quarterback and founder of BEF, said, "It's disheartening to see and hear all the bad news that's going around these days, and that's why we can't change the way we look at the world and interact with others, especially those groups like ours, which focus on an illness or disease and really change it for the better. I want to send a heartfelt thanks to all my new friends at ICAP and their customers for such a wonderful and supportive day."

ICAP has raised a total of $79.2 million (£53 million) for Charity Day since it was started in 1993.
