

£11.5 million raised on ICAP's 17th annual Charity Day

London, 10 December 2009 – ICAP (IAP.L), the world's premier interdealer broker, raised £11.5 million worldwide on its 17th annual Charity Day, beating the £11 million raised in 2008 and bringing the total raised to £64.5 million since 1993.

Michael Spencer, Chief Executive Officer of ICAP, said: "To be able to raise £11.5 million for charity in one day in the current environment is an incredible achievement for the financial services industry. Funds raised through the support of our customers, staff, the charities and their patrons will help over 120 worthy causes globally this year."

In London, ICAP hosted dozens of celebrity spokespeople from the various charities it gave to this year, including: Kevin Spacey, Princess Beatrice, Princess Eugenie, Kelly Brook, Lawrence Dallaglio, and Sir Trevor Brooking. In New York, former President Bill Clinton and Jack Nicklaus were among the celebrities that supported the day and in Hong Kong Sir David Tang and model Rosemary Vandembroucke attended.

ICAP has supported more than 820 charities since Charity Day was started in 1993.
